WAS AN AWFUL GALE THAT SWEPT TEXAS

SIX PERSONS KILLED IN HURRICANE AT PORT ARTHUR.

Disaster at Sabine Pass—Great Damage Done to Shipping—High Wind at Galveston Does Little Harm—Cyclone at Aberdeen, S. D.—In Wisconsin.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 14.—A message just received at the headquarters of the Kansas City, Pittsburg & Gulf railroad sates that six persons were killed in a hurricane at Port Arthur.

According to the railroad reports a heavy wind came on Sunday night, attaining a velocity of a hurricane at 6 o'clock in the evening and increasing in force until 9 p. m., when the highest velocity was reached. In Port Arthur several lives were lost, about thirty houses were blown down, the second story of the bank building was blown off, the Sabine hotel was damaged $800 and roofs were blown from the roundhouse, natatorium and the railroad company's stables. The pier, it is reported, was somewhat damaged. The dead:

FRANK ALBRIGHT, electric light employe.

FRITZ MICHALIS, carpenter.

GEORGE MARTIN, bricklayer.

UNKNOWN MAN.

MAY ANSWORTH, 6-months-old child.

FRITZ MICHAELS, laborer; residence unknown.

The injured:

MRS. ROY STAFFORD, right leg broken near hip.

ROY STAFFORD, legs badly bruised.

LITTLE DAUGHTER OF STAFFORD, seriously injured.

Of the disaster at Sabine Pass, which is the "opposition" town to Port Arthur, the Pittsburg & Gulf statement says that the loss is one schooner, four tugs, many buildings, ten or more people drowned, including Moore and Bettis, contractors. There is six feet of water in Sabine City.

President A. E. Stillwell of the Pittsburg & Gulf wired his representatives at Port Arthur that the company would subscribe $10,000 to repair the damage to homes in Port Arthur. The damage to the pier will be repaired at once.

Port Arthur is a town of about 1,000 to 1,200 people and has probably 300 houses, many of which are substantial structures. The Gulf Railway owns a magnificent $10,000 building, and the principal hotel is a costly structure of seventy-five rooms. Port Arthur is the southern terminal of the Kansas City, Pittsburg & Gulf Railroad and is situated sixteen miles inland from Sabine City. In 1886 a wave swept over Sabine City, covering that place with six feet of water, destroying many houses and causing several deaths. Great distress was caused, and there were many narrow and thrilling escapes. When the Gulf Road was first projected land on Sabine pass, owned by Kountze Bros., of New York City, was offered the railroad for a terminal. Both because of the fear of tidal waves and owing to a failure to reach a satisfactory price for the land, the proposition was rejected. Port Arthur then became the southern terminus of the road and was built up on the strength of that enterprise.

High Wind at Galveston.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 14.—At an early hour Monday morning the wind at Galveston gained a velocity of thirty-seven miles an hour. Ships had been forewarned of the expected storms and things along the dock were in good shape. A few small skiffs were sunk and two barges were driven ashore on the flats west of the wharves. They were pulled off by a tug. The only building to suffer was the Olympia, the big pavilion at the Gulf side. Two sections of the circular roof were carried away.

Cyclone at Aberdeen, S. D.

Aberdeen, S. D., Sept. 14.—A severe storm of a cyclonic formation struck here Monday evening. Heavy rain and some hail fell, breaking windows and doing considerable damage. Several barns were moved from foundations by the wind. Reports from the county indicate damage to grain in shock and stacks by being blown down and thoroughly soaked by driving rain. Many people fled to cellars during the progress of the storm.

Severe Thunderstorm in Wisconsin.

Marinette, Wis., Sept. 14.—A severe thunder and wind storm visited this place Monday. Large trees were uprooted and broken off, and houses were considerably damaged. Joseph Settersten, a boatman, and a traveling man left here at midnight Sunday for Egg Harbor in a sailboat. They have not since been heard from. They encountered the full violence of the storm and grave fear is felt for their safety.

Famous Prisoner Escapes.

Columbus, O., Sept. 14.—The Rev. G. F. B. Howard has escaped from the Ohio penitentiary. He was a most famous United States prisoner from Tennessee.

Secretary Alger Better.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Secretary Alger is reported to be much better, although he is still confined to his home. He expects to attend the cabinet meeting this afternoon.

THE BASEBALL REPORT.

Results of Yesterday's Games Played in the Various Leagues.

The Chicago ball players showed yesterday that they are not influenced in their playing by hope of gain. They went into the two games supposedly spurred by offers of $500 from a wealthy partisan of Boston, but the champions were working for the pennant, and outplayed Chicago all the afternoon. The first game was close, but the second was a farce. Baltimore gained a good lead as a result, since Boston was prevented by rain from playing Philadelphia. New York continued to fall behind with a tie game with Brooklyn, and is now virtually removed from Temple cup chances. Chicago goes against Baltimore again today on the same terms as yesterday.

At Baltimore—

Baltimore	0	1	2	0	0	1	0	0	*—4
Chicago	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	0—2

Second game—

Baltimore	0	2	6	3					*—11
Chicago	3	0	1	0	0				—4

At Brooklyn—

Brooklyn	1	0	2	1	1	2	1		—8
New York	2	1	0	0	3	1	1		—8

At Cleveland—

Cleveland	1	0	0	2	3	0	0	1	*—7
St. Louis	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	0	4—6

At Washington—

Cincinnati	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	—2
Washington	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	—1

At Louisville—

Louisville	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	7	*—7
Pittsburg	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	0	0—2

GOLD ON THE WAY.

Half a Million in Treasure on the Yukon Steamer Belle.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 14.—News comes from Anock, on the Yukon, that the steamer Belle had passed there, having on board a large number of miners, who were fleeing the country to escape the famine which now threatens the gold district.

Seventy of these men had in their possession $500,000 in gold dust, and others had smaller amounts. They all confirm the stories of great wealth in Alaska, but declare with one accord that death awaits hundreds of miners.

Food is now so scarce, they say, that many of the camps are on short rations, and they predict that the suffering there this winter will be past description.

Jubilee Year for Red Men.

Philadelphia, Sept. 14.—The stars and stripes and the colors of the Improved Order of Red Men—green, orange, blue and scarlet—are in evidence all over the city. The order has reached the fiftieth, or jubilee, year of its existence, and the event is signalized by the assembling here of the great council, representing its tribes in every section of the country. The great parade will be a feature of the week. In line will be 15,000 red men from this state, 5,000 from New Jersey, 1,000 each from New York, Delaware and Maryland and numerous contingencies from other states. The Degree of Pocahontas, the woman's branch of the order, will also be in session here during the week. This branch has 40,000 members throughout the country.

Four Drowned While Bathing.

Waterloo, Ia., Sept. 14.—Rev. Scott Hyatt and wife, Royal McQueen and Miss Mae Tibbets were drowned in the Cedar river, near Waverly, Sunday. The party went on an excursion, and as they had not returned at night search was made. Their lunch, hammocks and wearing apparel were found on the river bank. Early in the morning the bodies of Mr. Hyatt, McQueen and Miss Tibbets were found in a deep pool, clasped together. About 10 o'clock Mrs. Hyatt's body was found 300 yards below, caught in a barb-wire fence. The theory is that Miss Tibbets and Mrs. Hyatt, who were sisters, got beyond their depth; that the men tried to save them and all were drowned.

Miners Returning from Alaska.

San Francisco, Sept. 14.—The officers of the Alaska Commercial company expect the steamer Excelsior to arrive on Thursday from St. Michael's with miners returning from the gold fields of the Arctic. The steamer will be discharged as soon as possible and sent back to the Alaskan port.

Killed by His Friend.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Robert Coony, a member of one of the wealthiest families in the township of Leyden, died at the Dunning infirmary this morning as the result of a wound inflicted by William Kerby, a friend and intimate associate, during a quarrel last evening.

Harriet Prescott Spofford Ill.

Amesbury, Mass., Sept. 14.—Harriet Prescott Spofford, the well-known writer, is dangerously ill at her summer home near here.

TROOPS CALLED OUT FOR FEAR OF A MOB

MORE TROUBLE IS EXPECTED NEAR HAZLETON

Situation Is Alarming—Operators at Eckley Appeal to General Gobin, Who Orders the Philadelphia Militia to the Scene—Funerals of the Victims Held.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 14.—Trouble has broken out at Coxe Bros.' colliery at Eckley. Two hundred miners at Buck mountain, which is about three miles from Eckley, went on strike Monday morning and started toward the Eckley mines. The superintendent of the Eckley colliery telegraphed Gen. Gobin for troops, but later in the day the request was withdrawn, the superintendent notifying the general that the striking miners had stopped marching.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon Gen. Gobin received another telegram stating that these miners had again assembled; had marched on the Eckley mines and forced the miners to quit work. It was stated in this dispatch that the miners had been roughly handled by the strikers.

Gen. Gobin ordered the city troop of Philadelphia to go to the scene of the disturbance. The troopers rode across the mountains, a distance of eighteen miles. Eckley is a small mining village and lies in a valley. There are a number of collieries there, and fears have been entertained for the last forty-eight hours that trouble would break out, as the men had been acting ugly.

The situation in the Hazleton district is one of unrest. All the collieries in this district are apprehensive of danger. Requests have been pouring in to General Gobin from the various mines asking that he send troops to the places in order to prevent any possible outbreak. The general states that he will not send troops to any point unless an outbreak does occur. He declines to give the names of the collieries, as all the men in them are still at work. The operators, however, are apprehensive of a strike and want to be prepared for an emergency.

Two mine superintendents in this immediate vicinity have asked General Gobin to place guards around their houses. This will be done. General Gobin will not make public the names of the superintendents who made the requests.

The funerals of twelve of the victims of the massacre took place Monday. The bodies were buried in a grave 9x24 feet.

Additional warrants were issued by Alderman Gorman for the arrest of these deputies: William Raught, coal and iron policeman; John Turner, Henry Deal, Pink Ferry, B. D. Dixon and Wallace Drum. The deputies included here represent business men, clerks, bosses and tradesmen.

Illinois Miners Still Out.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 14.—Neither operators nor miners have taken any steps yet looking to a resumption of mining operations. A mass meeting of miners was held Monday, at which addresses were delivered by Mr. McBride of Auburn and Mr. Haddo of Pana, both of whom were delegates to the Columbus convention. Some coal is being taken out at the Black Diamond mine and the two mines of the Capital Coal Company and it was decided that delegations should visit these mines and endeavor to secure a suspension of operations.

The miners of Athens, Menard County, held a mass meeting Monday and elected delegates to the convention at Springfield, Sept. 19. They decided by unanimous vote to continue the strike.

Early Monday morning the superintendent of the coal shaft at Taliula ordered the miners to take out their tools or go to work. Nearly all responded by taking out their tools and none has gone to work.

Miners Anxious to Begin Work.

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 14.—A mass meeting was held here Monday and ratified the action of the Columbus convention with the exception of the clause preventing the miners from returning to work for ten days. This was promptly rejected, and the strikers will return to work as soon as a settlement is secured.

President McKinley in Washington.

Washington, Sept. 14.—President McKinley returned to Washington Monday afternoon from Somerset, Pa. The special train which carried the presidential party consisted of President Cowen's private car "Baltimore," the Pullman chair car "Abigail," which served as a reception car at the various stopping places en route and a combination car in the lead. Attorney General McKenna accompanied the President and Mrs. McKinley, and the only other members of the party were Miss Endisley and Executive Clerk George B. Cortelyou.

Will Call for Indemnity.

London, Sept. 14.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Vienna says that much excitement has been caused there by the news of the shooting by deputy sheriffs at Lattimer, Pa., of a number of Austrian and Hungarian subjects. Consular reports of the affair that have been received characterize the conduct of the deputies as unjust and unnecessary. The foreign office will demand strict compensation from the United States.

PROTECT ILLINOIS FROM THE FEVER

SOUTHERN TRAINS HALTED AT CAIRO.

Every Precaution Taken—Fresh Cases of Yellow Fever Found at Biloxi—Health Authorities Claim To Be Well Equipped To Deal with the Disease.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 14.—Drs. A. H. Mann of Springfield and J. R. McNeely and P. S. Doane of Chicago, appointed by the state board of health, are now inspecting every boat and train arriving here from the South to guard against yellow fever.

Trains are detained at East Cairo, Ky., and Bird's Point, Mo., as they arrive, while the physicians go through them, the boats stopping in midstream. So far the doctors have found no suspicious cases.

The passengers from New Orleans, Mobile and Meridian, Miss., are nearly all provided with certificates showing they are in good health and have not visited the fever-infected districts.

Travel north is quite heavy, and the passengers are considerably alarmed.

Should any suspicious cases be found the doctors will take them to a quarantine station until it can be determined whether the disease is genuine.

One of the fresh cases of yellow fever reported by Dr. Shannon yesterday at Ocean Springs proves to be Miss Goodrich of New Orleans, a niece of the woman who nursed Miss Schutze of St. Louis, who died of the yellow fever. Mrs. Sanders, who was from Amsterdam, N. Y., died in Ocean Springs and her body was taken to Barkley, Miss., in a wagon. Soon after her husband and son died at Barkley with the disease, together with two other persons, and other deaths are expected. It is daily becoming evident, therefore, that the first case of yellow fever originated in Ocean Springs and that all other points have caught the infection from that place.

NEW CASES AT BILOXI.

Most of Those Attacked Are Said to Be Recovering.

Biloxi, Miss., Sept. 14.—The condition of affairs as regards the fever is not materially changed from the former reports. Most of those sick are improving rapidly. The conditions of all are favorable.

Late yesterday evening there were reported two new cases in the Desporte family. This maks four cases in that family.

One new case was reported yesterday by Dr. Haralson. Dr. Tackett reports yesterday three new cases. Dr. Tackett has some fourteen cases of fever, nine of which he diagnoses as yellow fever, and this is concurred in by Dr. Gant. Dr. Gant further says the evidences of yellow fever are as clear and distinct with the Bosargo family as he has ever seen in any case.

The state board of health has been in session here to arrange for the quarantine and to provide a county health officer, Dr. Bolton, the present officer, being unable to act. Dr. J. J. Harry of Mississippi City was elected to the position.

Pelahantchie Is All Right.

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 14.—Dr. J. H. Purnell, the Vicksburg yellow fever expert, who, after an investigation at Edwards, Miss., last night, found two cases of dengue fever existing there, proceeded to Pelahatchie later in the night, and this morning reports that all the sickness in Pelahatchie was malarial fever, and that there is no danger from that point.

Yellow Fever in Nicaragua.

Managua, Nicaragua, Aug. 31.—Yellow fever has appeared at Leon, in western Nicaragua. Several natives have died of the disease recently and it is spreading.

Gold Finds on Sulphur Creek.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 14.—Sulphur creek, a branch of Dominion creek, which is a tributary of Indian river, is the scene of the latest gold excitement in the Klondike. From accounts of the new district brought down by the schooner South Coast it seems that the new diggings will rival even the famous Bonanza and El Dorado. Gold was found just below the surface running $34 to the pan. Two men took out $300 in a day by simply prospecting their claims. A stampede followed the reports of the new fields, which reached Dawson City Aug. 15. In a week 500 men had crossed the mountains between El Dorado creek and Dominion creek. They traveled day and night and in two weeks the whole stream was staked out.

Miss Willard Will Be There.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 14.—Visitors are already coming in anticipation of the world's W. C. T. U. convention, which is to meet the latter part of this month. At this convention not only Miss Willard, but Lady Henry Somerset, Anna Gordon and others will be present. Miss Willard's birthday, Sept. 28, will also be observed.

Reunion to Be in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Sept. 14.—The twenty-ninth meeting of the Society of the Army of Tennessee will be held in Milwaukee Oct 27 and 28. All officers who served during the war of the rebellion in the department or army of the Tennessee and were honorably discharged are eligible to membership in the society.

JUROR FOWLER IS ILL.

Unlooked for Complication Delays the Luetgert Trial.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—The serious illness of John E. Folwer, Jr., one of the juror in the Luetgert murder trial, caused a postponement of the case until tomorrow morning. Affected by the heat and the confinement of jury duty, the young man gave up shortly before noon yesterday.

An adjournment was ordered until 1 o'clock, but at that time the report of Dr. McNamara was handed to Judge Tuthill stating that Fowler was suffering from a severe fever and that his temperature was 103⅛ degrees. In order to allow him time to recover, it was decided to adjourn until this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The sudden illness of the juror will cause a serious state of affairs should it prove to be prolonged. It would result in a mistrial of the present hearing, and the great amount of time and expense would practically be wasted. The constitutional right of trial by jury cannot be waived, and Luetgert must be judged innocent or guilty by twelve men, the entire jury, as known under the common law.

There was a little talk at first of proceeding with eleven men, but Judge Tuthill at once announced that the case would have to proceed over again in case the juror was seriously incapacitated.

TO DEAL WITH SPAIN.

United States Navy Prepared for Any Possible Emergency.

New York, Sept. 14.—A special from Washington says: It is now evident that the government is getting ready to deal with Spain vigorously. The board of Officers of the naval intelligence bureau has had a conference as to the scheme of naval operations to be adopted in case of war with Spain.

A plan which was worked out in detail some time ago was discussed and, after a few alterations necessary to bring it up to date, this plan was approved.

At the first sign of actual war the powerful North Atlantic squadron will rendezvous within striking distance of Havana, while the four naval reserve ships of the American line—the Paris, New York, St. Louis and St. Paul—will receive their armaments as cruisers and will proceed to watch the Spanish fleet, track it, and warn the American naval commanders in advance of its movements.

Gigantic Trust Is Killed.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 14.—It was announced Monday that the Western Elevator Association, the big elevator pool, which has withstood all attacks for many years and was known as one of the most successful combinations in the country, would break up at the end of the present season. So many outside elevators have started up in the city that the business of the pool was seriously interfered with. This led to hints of the withdrawal of some of the members and it was agreed that the wisest thing would be to discontinue the organization.

National Free Silver Meeting.

Springfield, O., Sept. 14.—The national free silver camp meeting will open here at the fair grounds Wednesday morning, and will continue for one week. There will be a change in speakers each day and a change in chairman. It is expected that at least 3,000 persons will attend each day. Col. Roberts of Chicago is the manager of the meeting. A tent has been made which will hold 6,000 persons. Six press tables, each large enough to accommodate six persons, have been secured, and will be placed in a convenient position near the platform.

Powers Are Now Agreed.

London, Sept. 14.—The morning papers contain dispatches from Constantinople asserting that all the ambassadors are now in receipt of instructions enabling them to come to a full agreement on the basis of Lord Salisbury's proposal for the constitution of an international commission representing the six powers to assume control of the revenues with which Greece will guarantee the payment of interest to the holders.

Egyptian Troops Victorious.

Cairo, Sept. 14.—The Egyptian troops under command of Gen. Hunter have captured Berber from the Dervishes. Two gunboats have captured fourteen grain laden barges at a point thirty miles south of Berber, at the junction of the Atbara and Nile rivers. It is reported that Osman Digna, the well-known Dervish leader, is on the banks of the Atbara.

Traders on the Congo Slain.

Marseilles, Sept. 14.—The mails which arrived Monday from the French Congo bring news af the massacre of a trading convoy. The Pahouin tribe on July 20 fell upon the convoy near the town of Njole, on the upper Congo river, killing about fifty natives. The two white men who were in command are believed to have escaped.

Money to Prosecute Martin.

Philadelphia, Sept. 14.—The United Labor League of this city has started a fund for the prosecution of Sheriff Martin and the deputies who shot the unarmed miners on the Latimer road Friday.

Forty Persons Are Killed.

Madras, Sept. 14.—A most serious accident has occurred at the Champion Reefs mines. Forty persons are known to have been killed.

BOY IN THE RIVER ROPE ABOUT NECK

WAS WILLIE KOCH MURDERED AT AHNAPEE?

Suicide Theory Advanced at First, But It Now Begins To Look as if the Boy Had Been Strangled and Thrown Into the River—Disbarment Case.

Ahnapee, Sept. 14—[Special]—Nine days ago Willie Koch, the son of a prominent business man disappeared from home and nothing was heard of him until yesterday when the remains were found in the river with a heavy stone tied to his neck. Suicide was believed in, but the authorities have been investigating and the theory is now that the boy was murdered. A coroner's examination was held this morning but no light was thrown on the case. A post mortem was ordered. The police think the boy was strangled and then thrown in the river. The motive is not given.

Beloit College Opens Today.

Beloit, Wis., Sept. 14—[Special]—The college opens today with nearly four hundred students, including many young women. Work on Emerson Hall, the ladies' $30,000 dormitory, will begin at once.

The foot ball team have already reported and work in earnest will be begun tomorrow. Some valuable acquisitions have been made this fall, and Beloit confidently figures on having the best team in the northwest. The contest between Jeffris and Hinckly for the captaincy of the team will probably be settled by the election of W. A. Atkinson, both factions agreeing on him.

Pushing Disbarment Case.

Waupaca, Wis., Sept. 14—[Special]—Ben M. Goldberg who figures in the sensational suit brought here to disbar young Attorney Hoxie from practice in the courts is in the city to prepare records for the clerk of the court in the case. A motion will be made the last of this month to have the case advanced to the supreme court so it can be taken up in the January term. Judge Fish's decision is expected in a few days.

TAYLOR QUITS SPAIN.

Formal Farewells and Greetings Are Exchanged at San Sebastian.

London, Sept. 14.—A dispatch to the Standard from San Sebastian says that the entire official world of Spain regrets the departure of the retiring United States minister, Hannis Taylor, who leaves no ill-feeling behind him despite the difficult and sometimes unpalatable nature of his task. The queen regent has shown him marked attention. The dispatch continues:

"During the farewell audience granted to Mr. Taylor today (Monday) her majesty spoke kindly about the United States and Mr. Cleveland, even saying that she hoped some day to visit America. As Mr. Taylor was taking his leave she said, touchingly: 'Do, pray, be a friend to Spain when you return to America.' Bowing low, Mr. Taylor replied: 'Madame, I will be so, as far as my conscience permits.'"

The queen conversed for a few minutes with Gen. Woodford, whose presentation took place soon after Mr. Taylor had taken his leave. But the conversation was quite formal. If the court prolongs its stay at San Sebastian into October, as now seems probable, all aspects of the Cuban question, as it affects American interests, will be mooted by American diplomacy in friendly but firm and precise shape.

Volunteer for Service in Cuba.

New York, Sept. 14.—A special to the World from Atlantic City, N. J., says: "Twenty-one members of Atlantic City's famous life guard force have agreed to stand by their captain, Chas. Lake, and accept a handsome offer for their services, made by an agent of the Cuban junta. The agent offered Capt. Lake $300 bounty and $75 a month for every man in his force who would assume the risk. The captain was promised an officer's command over any company he might enlist.

"It was explained by the Cuban agent that an expedition was scheduled to start from this vicinity this week and the men were ordered to rendezvous with the other recruits at a near-by point and await a signal."

To Alaska and China.

San Francisco, Sept. 14.—Wednesday the gunboats Wheeling and Marietta will come down from Mare Island and anchor in the stream. After taking in the rest of their supplies the Wheeling will start for Alaskan waters and the Marietta will go to the China station. The latter vessel will be used principally on the rivers of China, while the Wheeling will do patrol duty in the Behring sea. The United States steamer Marion sailed from Honolulu August 25 and has not been heard from since. It is believed she is coming under sail.

Rumor That Weyler Is Caught.

Panama, Sept. 14.—It is rumored here that General Weyler has been captured by the Cubans.

NEW IRON BRIDGE IN TOWN OF TURTLE

BUILDERS HAVE JUST FINISHED THE WORK.

Cider Crop in the County Will Be Be Small This Year—Corn Put in Shock as Fast as Possible—The Footville Amateur Theatricals a Success.

Shopiere, Sept. 14—The town has just finished a new iron bridge between this place and Turtleville. Cider making will be poor business this fall as there are no apples to grind. Farmers are busy cutting corn. Those that have corn binders are putting corn in the shock pretty fast. Rain is needed very much. It is so dry that farmers can't plow for fall grain. On Friday evening, Sept. 17, a harvest social will be given at the home of D. A. Sweet. A program consisting of vocal and instrumental music, recitations and tableaux will be given. Wednesday, Sept. 13, an entertainment will be given at the M. E. church. A gramophone will furnish the program. Admission 20 cents. Wm. Truesdell's daughter from Racine, and son from Iowa are visiting him. Sam Capron left this place for Deforest, Wis, on Saturday, where he has been engaged to teach in the high school the coming year. Harry McArthur is building an addition to his barn and making other improvements. J. Dunn arrived home from the east on Friday and has had a fine time visiting relatives down there but likes the west the best. George Heald's boy has been sick for some time with typhoid fever but is getting better. Our creamery has been putting in some new machinery that gives good satisfaction and saves a good deal of labor.

FOOTVILLE SHOW A SUCCESS

„Among the Breakers' Greeted By a Large Audience--Personal Notes

Footville, Sept. 14—An audience of goodly proportions filled the Footville hall last Wednesday evening, to witness the amateur production of "Among the Breakers." The representation of the different characters by the young people who made up the cast was of an unusually high order of excellence. They exceeded the most sanguine expectations of those who have watched the hard work involved in the preparation for the ntght of the entertainment. Ray Owen as the remorseless villain, David Murray; Adin Ross as the witty son of Erin, Larry Divine; Levi Ross as the wealthy Hon. Bruce Hunter; Arthur Wiggins as the latter's son Clarence; and Harry Silverthorn as the versatile newspaper reporter, Peter Paragraph, all carried their parts with an ease not usual to those who lack experience in histrionic effort. George Shaw's impersonation of Scud, the colored waiter was beyond criticism, his makeup and delivery of his lines was so perfect as to leave no room for suggestion or improvement. Miss Flora Richards was admirably adapted to the part she carried, the cultured and refined city young lady, Minnie Daze. Mother Cary, a reputed witch, in the person of Miss Jessie Silverthorn, carried her difficult role very successsully. Miss Zoe Cory as Bess, the witch's daughter, was in reality what the plot supposed her to be, a captivating young lady, while Miss Fannie Richards as Biddy Bean, Larry's sweetheart, provoked the audience to repeated laughter by her witty speeches in her love making to "her own Larry." Taken as a whole the affair was entirely successful. Mrs. R. R. Carlson and daughter, Miss Mildred Carlson, have returned from a visit to Sheboygan. Miss Jessie Spoon and Mr. Norman Cowles, of Janesville, were callers at R. W. Strang's on Sunday. Levi and Amy Ross spent part of last week in Avon. Mrs. C. Sandell and three children of Beloit are guests of the former's mother, Mrs. H. S. Lugg. The Footville school opened for the fall term on Monday. Prof. A. G Henry has been re-engaged as principal and Miss Chessie Smiley has charge of the primary department. The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Christian church held a social at Ogden's hall last Friday evening. There was a good attendance and an enjoyable occasion is reported. At the M. E. church last Sunday evening three addresses on "Education" were delivered. District Superintendent William M. Ross spoke in a general way of the value of education. Miss Kate Wiggins of Beloit College discussed the subject from a woman's standpoint and Professor A. G. Henry gave the views of a school teacher. Mrs. Pennick, Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Partridge, Mrs. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. William Ashley. Mrs. W. H. Cory, Miss Zoe Cory, and Boyd Wallihan, went to Devil's Lake, Saturday. They joined the excursionists from Chicago, at Evansville. Mrs. H. Egerton and daughter, Miss Clara, entertained, in a charming manner, a company of ladies at tea last Friday evening. Those who were invited were: Mesdames H. Richards, W. M. Ross, G. Strang, H. Pennick, Partridge, H. Harper; and Mrs. Lugg, of Janesville. Mrs. C. R. Vesper and daughter Leda and Mrs S. W. Lacey and daughter Callie went to Chicago on Monday intending to return on Tuesday. Will Brown of Magnolia has been added to the force at F. W. Owen's market. Miss Kate Wiggins returned to Beloit on Monday to resume her studies in the college there. Mrs. Pennick spent Sunday in Janesville. Mrs. Emma Tollefson returned to Milwaukee on Friday. She is teacher in the public schools of that city.

NORTH JOHNSTOWN NEWS NOTES

Plenty of Matter of More Than Neighborhood Interest This Week.

North Johnstown, Sept. 14—Rev. J. O. Steele attened an interesting ministers' institute at South Wayne, from Tuesday until Saturday. Richard Cary arrived home from his eastern visit Tuesday, and reports a good time. Miss Kittie Walker, who has been sick with hay fever, is some better. Mrs. Frank Webber is on the sick list. The farmers are wishing for rain, as the plowing is being delayed on account of dry weather. Remember the W. C. T. U. meeting with Mrs. H. R. Osborn, Thursday. Roy Cary and wife spent Saturday and Sunday in Janesville. Harry Cumberland of Chicago, came out on his wheel and called on friends here last week. The flag raising spoken of last week was in the town of Beloit instead of Rock. C. B. Palmer has rented his farm, and will move to Milton Junction. H. Bowers of Whitewater, was a call r in this place Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rice leave this week for Chicago, where Ray will complete his last year's course of medical study. Mr. and Mrs. H. Tooker visited friends at Geneva from Saturday until Monday. Miss Ida Campbell of Milton, is teaching in the Cary district. Mrs. T. E. Rice visited friends in Janesville a part of last week. Mrs. H. R. Osborn attended the W. C. T. U. picnic at the home of Mrs. Carrie Dresser, South Clinton, Thursday, at which the unions of Beloit, Clinton, Manchester, Ill., and North Johnstown were represented. Dr. E. Cary, wife and daughter of Whitewater, attended church services here and spent the remainder of the day at R. Cary's.

FAIR CORN CROP AROUND AFTON.

Ears Filling Out Very Well In Spite of the Drouth.

Afton, Sept. 14—Farmers are hustling their corn into the shock as fast as possible, the dry, hot weather having made the work of securing their fodder imperative. Corn appears to be filling out well in spite of heat and drouth, and unless an early frost interferes, will produce an average crop in this vicinity, from present indications. Afton school re-opened for the fall term last Monday, with Frank P. Starr installed as teacher in the upper room and Miss Eliza Stoddard in the primary department. School in the Otis district also opened Monday with Miss Cicely Enos as teacher. Quite a delegation from Afton and vicinity attended the flag raising in district No. 5, last Saturday, Mrs. John Kilmer passed the sixtieth milestone of life last Friday, and the anniversary was marked by a delightful lawn party given at her home, and participated in by a goodly number of relatives and friends. A unique entertainment is to be given at the Baptist church next Friday evening, and Aftonians will be accorded an opportunity of hearing the gramophone in its wonderful reproductions of the human voice, both in recitation and song. Admission twenty cents, children ten cents. Four new members were added to the Baptist Y. P. S. C. E., at the Sunday evening meeting. The Modern Woodmen will meet in regular session next Saturday evening. Mrs. David Throne and daugther Helen, are spending the week with Beloit relatives and friends.

ROYAL BULLOCK VERY ILL.

Former Lima Center Man Is Dying In Boulder, Colorado.

Lima Center, Sept. 14—The many friends of Royal Bullock will be sad to learn that he is lying at the point of death with typhoid fever at his home in Boulder, Col. The entertainment Wednesday evening was a success both sociably and financially. A son has come to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Godfrey. Mr. and Mrs. Hart of Huntisford, are visiting their sister, Mrs. Knowles. Clarence Johnson left on the C. M. & St. P. train for Sioux City, Iowa, to clerk in the Exchange Hotel. He will remain through the winter. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Abbott of Johnstown, were callers at H. L. Janes, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and son of Fort Atkinson, and Mrs. Hildreth of Lake Mills visited at Mrs. Mark Child's last Saturday and Sunday. Some 25 of the young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Collins last Friday evening for a surprise on Mr. Fred Tanner. Ice cream and cake was served and all report a good time. George Charles of Whitewater spent Sunday with his wife here. Mrs. Florence Stetson returned to Hillsdale, Mich., Monday for another year in school, and Miss Ether went to Evanston to school. Edna Fuller visited Minnie Brothart at Milton Saturday. Mrs. Chapman's sister, Nilon, of Giestville visited here last Thursday. Mr. Reece and children returned from Tur-

"WILD WEST" SHOW OWNS JANESVILLE

CROWDS SEE THE PARADE AND FILL THE TENTS.

The Trains Were Late in Getting In, and People Had Two Processions For the Price of One—The Schools Dismissed During a Part of the Forenoon.

Buffalo Bill did not draw the crowds today that he did a year ago. His managers hardly expected it. The streets were lively with visitors all morning, however, and when the show opened at 2 o'clock the great bands of seats were well filled.

The three great wild west trains were late in getting in this morning, not reaching here from Milwaukee until six o'clock. The trains were unloaded as fast as possible and the stock hurried to the fair grounds. At eleven o'clock the parade began. The procession was a notable one and the cowboys, the cowboy band, and the bands of grotesquely appointed and ludicrously decorated American Indians were greatly admired. United States, English, French, German, Polish and other soldiers were a source of wonder and interest, but the dark-hued Arabs in their odd costumes, the barbarous appearing Cossacks and the rough riders of all nations were the recipients of general attention. Buffalo Bill himself was lionized by the people, handkerchiefs were waved by women and children and the men cheered and made pleasant remarks. To many of the cordial greetings Colonel Cody raised his sombrero and returned graceful salutes to his admirers.

As soon as the parade returned to the grounds the side show man made himself conspicuous with his famous announcements, and soon his big tent was crowded. The exhibitions in the Wild West show are now going on. The show remains tonight and then leaves for Rockford.

In order that school children might see the parade the city schools were dismissed from 10 o'clock until 1.

HIS ONLY FOOT CRUSHED OFF

One-Legged Tramp Was Caught Between Freight Cars in C. & N. W. Yards.

John McGraw, a one-legged tramp, had his other foot crushed off in the C. & N. W. yards last night. He was getting through between some freight cars in order to board a north bound freight for Watertown, but was not quick enough. He was seen pinned by the wheels by William Dowd, a car carpenter, who rushed to his assistance and pulled him out, and though his life was undoubtedly saved thereby, it was too late to save his foot, which was crushed to a mass of pulp.

The ambulance was called and the unfortunate man was taken, crushed and bleeding to the office of Dr. W. H Palmer, the company surgeon, where the operation of amputating half of his foot was performed.

Dr. Palmer, assisted by Dr. E. E. Loomis and W. E. Evenson, performed the operation.

While the victim of the accident lay on the operating table he drew a small knife from his pocket and tried to kill himself. As soon as the operation had been finished he was taken to the county asylum. He says he has no relatives living.

BREWER CAN'T PLAY FOOT BALL

Attack of Sciatic Rheumatism May Keep Him Off the Team.

Chester Brewer may not be able to resume his plans on the state university foot ball team this fall. This week he has been confined to his bed as the result of an attack of sciatic rheumatism that has rendered him almost helpless. Next Wednesday the university foot ball candidates will resume training at Lakeside. It is expected Coach King will be on hand to take the men in charge. Training will then be kept up until the university opens. It is hoped and believed this prospect for a two week's outing will bring out all the prospective players. The old members will have their expenses paid while the new men will be charged club rates for their board while in training.

CHAT OF THE BADGER STATE

RABBITS are a pest on Green Island near Marinette.

STRONG MAGNOLIA TENT MEETING

Much Good Work Has Been Done--Farmers Cutting Corn

Magnolia, Sept 13—The tent meeting under the management of Elder Miner is doing a good, thorough work. Several have started in the new life, and many who had become cold and indifferent renewed their covenant to live a better life The meetings will continue through this week. Mr. and Mrs. Asha Nevil are rejoicing over the advent of a baby boy, which came to gladden their hearts last week. Mrs. Zebe More is on the sick list. Alice Clifford went to Clinton last Monday to begin her duties as teacher. Hally Weaver fell down a flight of stairs Sunday, spraining her wrist. The farmers are busy cutting up corn, the tobacco being most all in the shed, in fine condition. Frank Chase is expected home from the east this week. Mrs. C. C. Howard has five fine canary singers, which she will sell for one dollar each. Miss Lizzie Brown is the guest of her cousin, Adrian Brown, this week. The birthday party in honor of her seventh year, given by Uta Acheson, was greatly enjoyed by about twenty boys and girls. A bounteous supper was served, and all went home with happy hearts, leaving many tokens of love and friendship. We hear there is to be another wedding soon. Rev. White preached in the Methodist pulpit Sunday afternoon, and a German preacher spoke in the evening. There will be no preaching in the Advent church next Sunday.

ONE FINGER CAUGHT IN A DRILL

Frank Walker of Johnstown Center Painfully Injured--School Opened

Johnstown Center, Sept. 14—Frank Walker caught one of his fingers in a drill and cut it nearly off. Miss Constance Pember of Janesville, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. R T. Pember. Miss Minnie Austin started for Brodhead Thursday, to visit relatives. Mrs Florence McCabe of Fontana, and her sister, Miss Lena Anderson, of Millard, spent Friday with their sister, Mrs. G. M. Chandler. School began Monday, Sept. 6, with Miss Margaret Mullen of Fort Atkinson, as teacher. Quite a number from here attended the Wild West show at Janesville, Tuesday. Many of the farmers around here are drawing off grain. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McGowan of Farmington. Ill, have been visiting at James McGowan's, but recently went up near Green Bay, to spend a month, when they will return to their home in Illinois. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Johnson contemplate moving to Janesville before the cold weather sets in. A few of the people around here attended the M. W. of A's picnic at Darien. Miss Lutie Fitzgibbons of Janesville, is visiting at Mrs. K. T. Pember's. Miss Ada Fellows contemplates buying a new wheel. Miss Gertrude Rockwell is attending school in Chicago.

Educate Your Bowels With Cascarets.

Candy Cathartic, cure constipation forever. 10c. If C. C. C. fail, druggists refund money.

It Tasted Good Still.

Some lively college girl, no doubt from the sunny south, relates in The Wellesley Magazine a novel variation upon the theme, long popular with the "funny man" of the newspapers, especially at Thanksgiving time, of the little boy who wants to eat more than he can. Little Sammy, on the porch of the great house of the neighborhood, had just inquired insinuatingly, "Didn't de white folks have ice cream fo' dinnah, Miss Kate?"

This small negro reminder of happy "'fo' de wah days" had never pleaded with me in vain for goodies, proceeds the narrator. Very soon he had eaten a full saucer of cream, which I had given him, and with the spoon poised on a sticky forefinger was looking at me with eyes that begged for more, and he got it, even to the third saucer.

I watched him till I fell to dreaming again, and my eyes sought the river. Only the clink of the spoon against the saucer and a satisfied sigh now and then broke the stillness of the southern summer day. Presently all was quiet, and I looked round to find the happy Sammy with the most disconsolate expression on his face, his head turned a little on one side and his eye fixed gloomily on about a quarter of a spoonful of cream.

"What is it, Sammy? Isn't it good?"

"Yas'm," in a sad tone.

"Then why don't you eat it? Have you got enough?"

He looked at me as he straightened up and unbuttoned the little worn jacket. "Yas'm," he sighed, "got 'nough ev'y whar 'cept my mouf."

A Misleading Sign.

Whenever the elder Sothern arrived at a town, one of his first means of diversion was to stroll about the streets and have fun with the natives.

He was in Chicago during its early days, and one day he saw a sign over an undertaker's establishment which read, "Everything furnished for first class funerals."

Going inside, he inquired:

"Do you furnish everything for funerals?"

"Yes, sir," replied the clerk.

"Then I want a casket."

He described the kind, and the order was recorded.

"Do you want carriages?"

"Yes; have five carriages ready."

"Yes, sir. Anything else?"

"Three dozen chairs."

"Anything else?"

"You might have a hearse ready."

"Is that all?"

"Why, no; you couldn't have a funeral with only carriages, hearse and casket. Now I would like to look at the corpse."

"Like to look at the corpse? I don't understand."

"I want to see what kind of a corpse you can furnish and know what the price will be."

The clerk was amazed.

"You advertise to furnish everything for a funeral, don't you?" said Sothern. "Well, you can't have a funeral without a corpse."

The sign had been altered when Sothern passed the following day.—Chicago Journal.

Embezzler Arrested.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—George Bogart, whilom city clerk of Evanston and present defaulter, who evaded watching detectives and fled on August 4, was arrested yesterday in Cape May, N. J. On his refusal to voluntarily return to Illinois and the scene of his crime he is being held by the Cape May police to await the arrival of the necessary requisition papers.

Strikers Return to Work.

Elwood, Ind., Sept. 14.—The cutters' and flatteners' strike in the window-glass trade, that has been in progress in Elwood for the past ten days, came to an end Monday evening, the Elwood factory resuming work in all departments.

Italy Short of Wheat.

Rome, Sept. 14.—According to the official statistics, the wheat harvest of Italy is estimated at 30,000,000 hectoliters, against 51,000,000 hectoliters in 1896.

Of Weakness in Men They Treat and Fail To Cure.

An Omaha Company places for the first time before the public a MAGICAL TREATMENT for the cure of Lost Vitality, Nervous and Sexual Weakness, and Restoration of Life Force in old and young men. No worn-out French remedy; contains no Phosphorous or other harmful drugs. It is a WONDERFUL TREATMENT—magical in its effects—positive in its cure. All readers, who are suffering from a weakness that blights their life, causing that mental and physical suffering peculiar to Lost Manhood, should write to the STATE MEDICAL COMPANY, Suite 695, Ramge Building, Omaha, Neb , and they will send you absolutely FREE, a valuable paper on these diseases, and positive proofs of their truly MAGICAL TREATMENT. Thousands of men, who have lost all hope of a cure, are being restored by them to a perfect condition.

This MAGICAL TREATMENT may be taken at home under their directions, or they will pay railroad fare and hotel bills to all who prefer to go there for treatment, if they fail to cure. They are perfectly reliable; have no Free Prescriptions, Free Cure, Free Sample or C. O. D. fake. They have $250,000 capital, and guarantee to cure every case they treat or refund every dollar; or their charges may be deposited in a bank to be paid to them when a cure is effected Write them today.

1896—General E. R. Wadsworth, a Wisconsin war veteran, died in Chicago; born 1823.

The Cheerful Idiot.

"It must have been a very tender-hearted butcher who killed this lamb," said the Cheerful Idiot, pausing in the sawing of his chop.

"Why?" kindly asked the shoe clerk boarder.

"He must have hesitated three or four years before striking the fatal blow."—Indianapolis Journal.

Modern Courtship.

She—Have you shaved to-day?

He—Yes.

"Have you perfumed yourself?"

"Certainly."

"Have you smoked any cigarettes?"

"No."

"Well, then, you can give me a kiss."—Tammany Times.

Another Thing.

Wife—You saw Mrs. Browser last evening?

Husband—Yes; but not to speak to her.

Wife—What a story! I heard you were sitting with her for more than two hours.

Husband—That's so; but it was she who did all the talking.—Up-to-Date.

Sly Dog.

"Well, it's all right," exclaimed young Mr. Louie Veel, triumphantly to his lady love, "I've seen your father, Nellie, dear, and now we are engaged."

"But how did you overcome papa's opposition?" asked the delighted girl.

"I let him beat me at poker."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Cautious Man.

First Thief—Ain't your two brothers gamblers?

Second Thief—Naw; only one.

First Thief—Ain't the other one?

Second Thief—Nixy. He don't take no chances of gettin' into musses with th' perlice. He's a burglar. — N. Y. Weekly.

His Experience.

"On the whole," said the aged weather prophet, "I have found that the safest course is to predict bad weather."

"How so?" asked the neophyte.

"Because people are much more ready to forgive you if the prediction does not come true."—Puck.

Kills His Daughter's Suitor.

Monmouth, Ill., Sept. 14.—Dr. F. Regnier, chairman of the democratic county committee, shot and instantly killed Simon Frandsen, a young butcher, on Monday. Frandsen had been paying attention to Regnier's daughter, against Regnier's wishes, and had been ordered to quit. This morning he shot five times at Regnier in the road, hitting him once in the shoulder blade. Regnier went home and got a shotgun. Returning he met Frandsen, who shot again, missing. Regnier then emptied a load of buckshot into Frandsen's breast. No arrest has been made yet.

Wreck Victim Identified.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 14.—The woman killed and partly cremated in the Newcastle railroad wreck, who had a watch inscribed "Mamma to Mamie," has been identified as Miss Mary E. Johnston of Pomona, Cal. It is believed that the corpse clasped in her arms was that of her friend Nellie Davis of Pomona. The charred remains of seven unidentified victims of the accident arrived in Denver today and will be buried here.

Hard Fighting in India.

Simla, Sept. 14.—Fort Lockhard and Fort Gulitan are still heavily atttacked. The startling news comes from Fort Lockhard that the combined bodies of the Afridis and Orakzais number 47,000 men. They are now all collected near Khan-Ki valley, and will advance on the fortifications at Samana for an attack tonight.

Locusts Attack Crops.

London, Sept. 14.—The Times correspondent at Buenos Ayres says it is feared there that the Argentine harvest will be almost entirely destroyed by locusts.

Swedes to Meet at Elgin.

Elgin, Ill., Sept. 14.—The Swedish mission people of Northern Illinois will hold a conference in the Evangelical Emanuel church here.

TRIBUTE TO W. G. WHEELOCK

Organ of Western Congregationalists Speaks Appreciatively of His Qualities

The Advance of Chicago, official organ of the Congregational church, says in its current issue:

"The church and community at Janesville is in sorrow over the death of Deacon Wadsworth G Wheelock. He was a rare man, one who believed in practical christianity, who loved the church, and was always ready to do his part in the furtherance of her mission.

"He was prominently interested in the building of the present house of worship and last year was chairman of the building committee for the new parsonage. There are but few left of the number who for nearly forty years have stood shoulder to shoulder in both church and community, and the loss is almost irreparable. Mr. Wheelock leaves a wife and four sons, all of whom follow their father's business. 'Blessed are the dead, who die in the Lord, for their works do follow them.'"

A Judge's Duties.

Great Jurist's Wife—What makes you so tired to-night?

Judge—I had to charge a jury in an important case this afternoon.

"Oh, I suppose it's a great strain to recall all the details of a case."

"It isn't that. It isn't that. It's being obliged to talk to a jury 30 long minutes without saying anything."—N. Y. Weekly.

An Invaluable Device.

Mrs. Newlywed—That is our new burglar alarm—you see, if a burglar should get into the lower part of the house, that would ring.

Her Mother—Oh!—and scare him off?

Mrs. Newlywed (doubtfully)—Well, it might; but it would give Clarence and me plenty of time to hide in the attic, anyway.—Puck.

Discovery.

Concerning Annabel's real age
Her little brother left no doubt;
I didn't find her in that night—
That was the night I found her out.
—Detroit Journal.

VERY PERSONAL.

Wilson—Has that charming widow any property?

Bilson—Yes; considerable.

Wilson—Real estate or personal?

Bilson—Personal; she has six children.—Up-to-Date.

A Good Guess.

When Della meets me with a kiss
Her tender greeting soothes me not;
For well I know the truth is this:
She wants some money—wants a lot.
—Chicago Record.

On the Sick List.

"I wish to see the proprietor," said he, as he entered the office of the manufacturer of the Never Fail Cold Cure.

"He is at home ill," replied the bookkeeper.

"What ails him?"

"He's had a terrible cold for the last six weeks."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

YOU CANNNOT CURE PILES

By Internal Remedies.

The only sure way to cure every form of piles is to use a remedy like the Pyramid Pile Cure which is applied directly to the parts affected and its wonderful healing effects are apparent from the first application because the medicinal properties are rapidly absorbed by tissues and sensitive membranes of the rectum, and the cure is made speedily and almost before the patient is aware of it, every trace of piles has left him.

This is one of the reasons why the Pyramid Pile Cure has been so uniformly successful. It is applied directly just where it is needed and where it will do the most good. Not by the roundabout way of the stomach nor by the harsh, barbarous methods of various surgical operations and so called systems.

Direct application to the seat of disease is the only rational way, and this is fully accomplished by the Pyramid Pile Cure.

If the voluntary testimony of thousands who have tried this remedy is worth anything then no sufferer has any excuse for longer delaying in giving it a fair trial, knowing that when you do so the Pyramid Pile Cure will have made one more friend, the best possible advertisement we can have. The chief advantages of the remedy are: It cures without pain, the cure is lasting, it contains no poison, and lastly, it is the cheapest and quickest cure yet found. Your druggist can tell you what it has done for others. Sold by druggists at 50c and $1 per package.

A LETTER TO WOMEN.

A few words from Mrs. Smith, of Philadelphia, will certainly corroborate the claim that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is woman's ever reliable friend.

"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly.

"For nine weeks I was in bed suffering with inflammation and congestion of the ovaries. I had a discharge all the time. When lying down all the time, I felt quite comfortable; but as soon as I would put my feet on the floor, the pains would come back.

"Every one thought it was impossible for me to get well. I was paying $1 per day for doctor's visits and 75 cents a day for medicine. I made up my mind to try Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has effected a complete cure for me, and I have all the faith in the world in it. What a blessing to woman it is!"—MRS. JENNIE L. SMITH, No. 324 Kauffman St., Philadelphia, Pa.

MISS ELIZABETH WALLACE.

Well Fitted to Take Her Place In University of Chicago Faculty.

Miss Elizabeth Wallace, who has been appointed assistant professor of Romance languages in the University of Chicago, has many friends in Chicago, both in and out of the university She was a tutor in the university and head of Beecher House three years ago Her receptions and entertainments at Beecher set an example for hospitality at the institution and made her the most popular of the younger members of the faculty.

Miss Wallace was born in Colombia, where she gained her fluent mastery of French and Spanish and began the studies of South American life which led to her appointment as a lecturer in Spanish-American institutions.

Two years ago she accepted the position of dean of women at Knox college and introduced many new and valuable ideas into the work of the college Last year she was appointed a traveling fellow in the University of Chicago and went to Paris. Here she spent the year at the National library and the College de France, working in the fields of Spanish and French literature, Arabic and related studies At the university she will give a series of courses on the development of the Spanish and French drama. Her father is a Presbyterian missionary in Mexico —Chicago Post.

Married Names.

I lately heard a convenient if not startlingly new suggestion concerning married names—namely, that a woman should invariably retain her maiden name, hyphened on to that of her husband. Some of the more advanced woman's rights champions think she ought to keep her own name only, an absurd idea which few brides would approve or husbands agree to, and which would be quite incompatible with the idea of family unity, but no such objection applies to the suggested double name. When we speak of Amy Eaton or Amy Lowndes to friends who perhaps do not know that she is married or have forgotten to whom confusion ensues, which would be avoided if we might say "Amy Belgrave-Lowndes" or "Belgrave-Eaton." In many ways the retention of the maiden name would be an immense help to that quick identification which is so useful in social life — Ladies' Pictorial.

Plain Cloths.

There is now every reason to believe that, notwithstanding the continued vogue of repped goods, basket effects, honeycomb serges, shaggy tweeds, etc., some of the smartest autumn gowns will be made of plain, smooth cloths. Drap d'ete, ladies' cloth and double faced cashmere have been used during the summer season, and these are even more suitable for fall wear. All the soft wool colors will be worn, gray in a number of tones. Blues will likewise prevail and a rich, peculiar shade of Italian or currant red. The smooth finished silks shown on the importers' sample cards are remarkably handsome in weave and texture, and the choice as to color is almost unlimited.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A New Chicago Club.

Roman Catholic women, like Jewish women, are not much given to clubs. Hitherto, at least, they have cultivated the domestic virtues rather than literature and oratory, but of late years they are slowly widening their range and coming to believe that a woman may be none the worse wife and mother for having some intellectual interests. One large Roman Catholic woman's club has started in this city, spread out its branches elsewhere and acquired a membership of several hundred. Now a second society is under way. It is to be called Sorosis, and, like its namesake of New York or the Fortnightly here, is to be purely for study and literary work.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Ellen M. Watson.

Mrs. Ellen M Watson of Pittsburg, corresponding secretary of the Pennsylvania Woman's Christian Temperance alliance, wears a silver badge in the form of an open Bible, presented by the United States Christian commission for her services during the war. Together with the daughter of General J. K. Morehead, who held a special permit from General Grant to pass through the lines, Mrs. Watson went in and out, giving her service where it was most needed—in diet kitchens or by the side of the sick and wounded soldiers. Only 150 badges similar to Mrs. Watson's were given out.

The Circular Skirt.

The newest French skirt—in circular shape, designed expressly for cutting wide wools—measures 3¾ yards at its widest circumference. It is plain in front, with all the fullness at the back, and is fitted closely over the hips by means of a very deep, curving dart on each side, these darts being necessary to hold the skirt in perfect shape over the hips. When finished, they are covered with an ornamental stitched or trimmed strap and fastened under a fly as a means of getting in and out of the skirt, which is not opened at the back. —New York Post.

AN EXPERT "KITER."

A Clever Boy Whose Experiments Are a Little Hard on the Kittens.

The surplus cats of Cleveland lurk in their hiding places by day and even at night venture forth timorously. The hens of Cleveland cackle quietly, and the pigeons coo furtively, as it were. The domestic animal kingdom of the city on the lake is trying to call as little attention to itself as possible and all because young Spencer Gray has found a new form of summer amusement.

Spencer Gray is aged 14, and he has the kite habit in a wonderfully developed form. Tailless kites attached to the earth, not by mere strings or cords, but by ropes, are his playthings. And with a tender thoughtfulness for the pets of his neighbors he frequently arranges kite ascensions for the kittens, the chickens or the rabbits of the vicinity. He places the object of his bounty in a parachute basket, attaches the basket and parachute to his largest kite, Black Tom, lets out 3,000 feet of rope, and then, when pussy or bunny is half a mile or so from home, he pulls the string, which detaches the parachute and basket from the kite, and they are wafted gently downward to earth, while Black Tom soars on unhampered.

Sometimes Spencer sends up two kites by one string, with a lantern attached to a cross string. He has become an expert in the building of mammoth kites and has an extensive trade among the Cleveland youngsters. But the animals and the animal lovers look upon him with something strongly resembling disapproval.—New York Journal.

Thrilling Adventure of a Boy.

An Iowa boy recently passed through an experience which he will not forget if he lives to be 100 years old. He is only 5 years old, and one day when his father went to the wheatfield to drive the harvester he took him along and perched him on the high seat at his side. For a time the little fellow watched the yellow wheat lop over as it was cut in a wide swath, and the tall arms sweep it back and bind it, and finally the fat bundles being tossed aside one by one. All this was very interesting for awhile, but presently the little fellow grew tired and began to squirm and complain, and then, just as his father was leaning over to look more closely at some of the machinery, off tumbled the little fellow on the conveyor. He shrieked just once, and his father tried vainly to stop the horses, but before he could even slack the speed the boy had been driven up through the elevator canvas with half a bundle of wheat, the binding twine had twisted swiftly around his neck and legs, and he was rolled out on the wide carrier, securely bound in a wheat bundle. He was almost choked, and there was a tiny bit of skin torn from his shoulder, but otherwise he was unhurt when his father cut the string and helped him up again, but a worse frightened boy would have been hard to find.—Exchange.

So They Do.

While talking to a mission school upon the contrast between Darius and Daniel a speaker said: "Now, children, Daniel, in the den of lions, slept more sweetly that night than did the king. Why was it?" "Darius was bad and Daniel was good," replied somebody. "That is right. And now what makes a bed soft?" continued the speaker, trying to develop the conscience point. "Fedders!" exclaimed a 4-year-old, quick as a flash.—Home Guard.

The Dog Days.

Earle had heard his father say that dog days would begin the next day. Accordingly the next morning he seated himself on the front doorsteps. When he had been there more than an hour, his mother asked what the trouble was.

"Nothing," was the reply. "I'm just waiting for the dogs to come along. I want to get a Newfoundland."—Philadelphia Times.

An Ingenious Little Old Man.

A little old man of the sea
Went out in a boat for a sail.
The water came in
Almost up to his chin,
And he had nothing with which to bail.

But this little old man of the sea
Just drew out his jackknife so stout,
And a hole with its blade
In the bottom he made,
So that all of the water ran out.
—John Bennett in St. Nicholas.

DEBILITY

To those who suffer pain the joy of relief is indescribable. Debility or nervous prostration causes all the inconveniences of pain, though not its sharpness. It is a later stage of disease.

Pains and debility are symptoms of a deranged condition of the kidneys. Both will disappear when the kidneys are made to act right, not before. Diseased or inactive kidneys can be

IN INSOLVENCY.

CIRCUIT COURT—ROCK COUNTY—In the matter of the insolvency of E. R. Inman, by whom a petition for a discharge from his debts, under chapter 179 of the revised statutes of Wisconsin, was filed on the 29th day of June, 1897.

To all whom it may concern:

Pursuant to an order made in the Circuit Court for Rock County, Wisconsin, dated June 28th, 1897, all creditors of E. R. Inman, of Janesville, Wisconsin, are required to show cause, if any they have, before said Court at the Court House in the city of Janesville, Rock County, Wisconsin, on the 20th day of September, 1897, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, or as soon thereafter as the matter of said petition can be heard, why said E. R. Inman should not be adjudged to be an insolvent debtor within the purview of Chapter 179 of the Revised Statutes of Wisconsin, and the several acts amendatory thereof, and why an assignment of the estate of E. R. Inman, such insolvent debtor, should not be made, and why he should not be discharged from his debts, and why such other and further order should not be made as shall be just and equitable in the premises.

TELLS COLD FACTS OF KLONDIKE LIFE

A JANESVILLE MAN WRITES FROM DAWSON CITY.

Morris Hawkins Tells His Bower City Friends That the Trip From the Coast is a Perilous One—How the Janesville Carpenter Has Fared in the Gold Land.

The bare cold facts of Dawson City life are given in a letter to Janesville friends by Morris Hawkins.

Hawkins left Janesville one year ago last April going to Colorado Springs. He worked as a carpenter there for six months and then went to Portland, Oregon.

In Portland, the mining fever got him.

It got him in very practical fashion, however—a $15 a day contract with a party of miners.

The party he went with had been out twice before. They left Portland the 28th of last February, there being five of them in all. Each took fifteen hundred pounds of supplies.

Hawkins is well known in this city having lived here for seven years. Most of this time he was in the employ of O F. Nowlan. Mrs. A. H. Barnes to whom he writes is his sister. His wife is in Fort Atkinson with her parents. In his letter he says:

In the Heart of the Gold Country

Dawson City, Northwest Territory, British Columbia. Dear Friends—I will try and write a few lines to let you know I am alive and well. I received your kind letter July 7. You said that Jack West and Ruthie were talking of coming out here next spring. I wish he was here now, but it is a big undertaking after one leaves Dyea to get here. A great many lose their outfits in the rapids and sometimes lose their lives. Four boats were lost when I came down. I built a large scow, seven feet wide and thirty-two feet long. Our load was over ninety hundred and there were five men of us. We run everything but the White Horse Rapids. We were thirteen days on the lakes and river but made good time when we struck the river. Some days we made eighty miles a day and not a living thing to be seen. Occasionally we would pass Siwash Indian tents. There we would buy meat and fish. They seem glad to see the whites.

Mail Comes Once a Month.

"I received your letter, which was written April 4, 1897. We only get mail once a month when it is on time. We are having quite warm weather at present, and I have been at work most of the time and get $15 for ten hours' work. If I could stand it I could work twenty-four hours every day, for we have no nights here. This is called the land of the midnight sun. It is as light here as it is with you at sunset. They run the saw mills at night without lighting. I have not seen a lamp or candle lit while here.

"Common labor is worth $10 a day. I have taken up a claim, from which I receive one-half. It runs from ten cents to $1.70 to the pan. I shall take a claim of my own as soon as I hear of a new strike.

Chance of Making a Strike.

"I am in hopes of coming back next season with a few thousand dollars Prices of eatables are high—flour, $12 per hundred, bacon, 50 cents per pound, sugar 30 cents per pound, prunes, 30 cents per pound, apples, 30 cents per can, corn 50 cents per can, pears 50 cents, a brick of codfish 75 cents, coffee $1 per pound, baking powder $1.50 can, cheese 50 cents per pound, ham 65 cents per pound, eggs $4.50, fresh fish $2 per pound, moose meat $1 per pound, whiskey 50 cents a drink which does not affect me. We think nothing of these prices.

"I am coming back some day with a stake. I hope to get a stake between this and next July. I can't think of half I want to write but will have lots to tell when I see you."

THE COMIC OPERA LAST NIGHT

Miss Lillian Brought's Janesville Company Makes Its First Appearance.

There was evidence of much hard work in the comic opera put on at the Myers Grand last evening Miss Lillian Brought took the leading role, and played the part of Pocahontas very creditably. She danced well, and made an excellent appearance. Her qualities as an organizer were apparent throughout the performance, as the training of the children had been entirely in her hands.

Frank P. Williams was applauded for his work as John Smith. Harry Swift posed as John Rolfe, a seventeenth century exquisite, and Frank Brown furnished a foil in the blunt character of the Indian chief. Will Kober as Powhatan, sang well, and carried his part impressively. Harry Haze of Chicago, as Mahogany, and William Farrell of Chicago, in Irish character work, were both recalled several times. Their songs and dances proved very effective. W. A. Schaar, the Chicago bicyclist, was the sensation of the evening. His trick riding electrified the spectators.

The little people did their work very creditably. Joe Fisher recited "Jamie and the Owl," Vera Lyntz sang very prettily and Willie and Mamie Curtis were recalled after singing "There'll Come a Time" and responded with "Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight."

An effective feature of the performance was the dancing. About seventy-five children were in the cast and their dances were applauded loudly. Little Vernie Winbigler and Bessie Williams surprised the audience with their skirt dancing. Twenty-two little girls in pink went through the hoop drill very nicely. They formed a pretty picture with hoops decorated with flowers. The scarf dance by a dozen or fifteen little misses and the Mother Goose reception and drill were well executed.

The audience was not large, it having been announced that another performance would be given later in the week. It is promised that the delays and confusion incident to a first performance will by that time have been overcome. The company expects to play in Beloit and Edgerton next week.

SAVED $400 BY CLEVER WORK.

Bassett & Echlin Get Seven Buggies to Cover a Durand Claim.

There has been a scramble by Janesville firms to secure themselves on Durand failures caused by the Norton defalcation. F. B. Echlin of Bassett & Echlin has just completed what the police would call a clean piece of detective work. P. W. Fenelon of Durand failed to meet his obligations, giving the defalcation as his excuse. He left Bassett & Echlin in the hole about $400. His stock was sold out very unceremoniously and changed hands several times, most of it being scattered around the country. Mr. Echlin kept his eye open, however, and last evening at 8:30 he and Chief Hogan came back to Janesville with a string of seven new buggies.

The buggies are now at the Rock county jail in charge of Sheriff Acheson and are being held to balance Mr. Fenelon's account with Bassett & Echlin. They were found in a barn six and a half miles southwest of Avon. They had been sold three times in the last week and had been carted over the state line several times in order to throw the officers off the trail.

FIRST BALE OF YEAR IS JANESVILLE'S

THIS CITY REMEMBERED IN THE SOUTH.

The Auction Sale of the First Cotton of the Year in Atlanta, Results in Howe Brothers Securing the Premier Package—An Important Ceremony.

This city has the destinction of receiving the first bale of new cotton to leave the sunny south this season. This fact may not carry much weight with the average Janesville citizen but to the cotton growers and speculators of the south, the "first bale" is a big thing. Each year in Atlanta when the first bale of the new crop comes on the market it is hailed with rejoicing, and its purchase is made after much ceremony and high bidding. The railroad company show their good will by carrying the first bale free and the cotton buyers all turn out and celebrate the shipment.

Henry H. Smith one of the most extensive of the southern cotton buyers made the purchase this year of Cecil W. Strohbar, The bale weighed 475 pounds and was classed as "good meddling." Mr. Smith put the address "Janesville, Wis.," on the bale without delay, and shipped it over the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis to Howe Bros. of this city. It was packed with special care and attracted much attention when received here.

FOUND A SKELETON

Supposed Human Bones Unearthed in a Cellar Near Five Points.

While excavating for the cellar of a tobacco warehouse this afternoon, Samuel Grundy came upon a lot of bones which had the appearance of belonging to a human body. Several ribs, and what looked to be hip bones and different joints of the body were unearthed. Pieces of cloth and also parts of a box and nails were also found and whether or not the remnants of some ghastly mystery have been found will be decided when an examination has been made by medical experts.

The warehouse is being constructed between the present Samuel Grundy and Joseph Grundy warehouses and at a late hour this afternoon workmen were looking for the skull of the supposed skeleton.

BUSH'S BODY NOT FOUND

Supposed to Be In the Whirlpool Below Niagara Falls

Warren Bush, the former Janesville boy who was swept over Niagara Falls is still missing, not a trace of his body having been found.

Saturday it was reported that a body was seen at the foot of the falls whirling about in the rapids but that it was terribly disfigured.

Previous to this discovery two legs were seen floating about in the rapids but on account of the danger no attempt to put out a boat was made.

Bodies that are carried over the falls are by the time of their rescue so disfigured that their recognition is found almost impossible. Mrs. Bush is reported to be almost broken down over the terrible affair.

Grace (to her bosom friend, who is caressing a blear-eyed poodle)—I hear your engagement to Mr. Stebbins has been cancelled?

Just an Hour Too Late.

The other day X——, the Bohemian, on receiving some money from a rich uncle, took it into his head to clear off some of his most pressing debts. He first called at his tailor's, and heard that the poor man had just died. His widow, all in tears, desired to know the visitor's errand.

"I have come to pay my bill," he simply replied.

"Ah," sobbed out the widow, "if my poor husband had only lived till this morning the shock might have brought him round!"—Tit-Bits.

In Self Defense.

"Yes," said the man who was relating the experience, "I am usually a peaceful and law-abiding citizen, but on that occasion I joined the infuriated mob and threw stones at the militia."

"You did?"

"Yes. I knew that if the militia began to shoot the infuriated mob would probably escape, while the innocent spectators would get hurt." — N. Y. World.

Mrs. Hashcroft Was Suspicious.

"A dinner such as we have had today," said the elderly boarder, "makes me feel like a young man."

"Indeed," was all Mrs. Hashcroft deigned to reply.

"Indeed; when I think of that lamb we had for dinner I feel that if that was lamb I must be still a boy."—Answers.

Nothing Noisy About It.

"What sort of hunting is done mostly in this region?" asked a northern tourist of a Kentucky mountain inn-keeper.

"Most of the hunts in this neighborhood are still hunts," replied the landlord, with a wink to the revenue officer, who was smoking a cigar within hearing.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Spite.

"Yes," she said, "I know I have his love."

"Ah, you've taken to dealing in second-hand articles, have you?"

She merely shrugged her shoulders. She knew that a jealous woman was always a spiteful woman.—Chicago Post.

Female Friendship.

"My husband is not only handsome, but good," said Mrs. Boulevard, proudly.

"Isn't it strange how extremes meet?" replied Mrs. Murray Hill, her best friend, who was paying a visit.—Tammany Times.

Domestic Science.

Teacher—Now, leather comes from the cow, and wool from the sheep, and wool is made into cloth, and cloth into coats. Now, what is your coat made of—yours, Tommy?

Tommy (with hesitation)—Out o' feyther's.—Tit-Bits.

MORE DAMAGE SUITS AGAINST THE CITY

H. E. LANGWORTHY HAD HIS BUGGY SMASHED.

He Was Thrown Out and Suffered Bodily Injury—A Wagon Standing in the Street the Cause of the Accident—There Are More Suits in the Wind.

Another damage suit against the city.

After awhile this line will be kept standing in Janesville newspaper offices.

Hardly a week passes but another suit is filed.

Notice was served on City Clerk Badger late yesterday afternoon that H. L. Langworthy wanted recompense for personal injuries and for the smashing of his buggy.

Mr. Langworthy was driving out of town not long ago and in the darkness he struck a wagon that stood in the road near the gas house. He was thrown out and his buggy was wrecked.

The wagon is one that is said to stand in the street the year around.

Another damage suit will be instituted, it is said, by a Second ward woman who caught her foot in a hole in the sidewalk on North Main street near H. M. Shorb's place.

AN EGYPTIAN ELIXIR

By FRANK M. EASTMAN.

[Copyright, 1897, by the Author.]

Thou couldst tell us, if that leathern tongue
Could tell what those dim, sightless eyes have seen,
How the world looked when it was fresh and young
And the great deluge still had left it green.
—Horace Smith.

I had been exploring a large rock tomb in the vicinity of Karnak for a number of weeks in the summer of 18—. It was a comparatively old discovery, but owing to the remarkable character of the tomb I had thought it well worth my while to glean for such details as might have escaped the notice of earlier visitors.

The opening to the sepulcher, accidentally discovered, consisted of a straight passage, barely permitting of the entrance of a single individual at a time upon his hands and knees. Its sides were of red granite, beautifully polished, which glittered dazzlingly in the light of the explorer's torch. This entrance ran straight back into the hill for a distance of some 200 feet, when it suddenly opened upon a large vaulted room of circular form, from which there branched numerous galleries of good proportions, leading to other chambers, in which had been found many sarcophagi, mummies and mummy cases, one of the sarcophagi being supposed to be that of Thothmes III, the most glorious monarch of Egyptian history, who erected the obelisk now in Central park, though no mummy had been found within it.

The walls of the passages and chambers were, like those of all of the grander Egyptian tombs, decorated with numerous spirited paintings, the bright colors of which still shone as fresh and lustrous as if they had been laid on but yesterday. It was in this mysterious abode of death that I had been long engaged, copying inscriptions and paintings, searching for new passages and re-examining the old ones, with an enthusiasm which only an ardent Egyptologist can experience.

I had at length nearly finished my investigations, and, in fact, the day of which I am about to speak was to have been my last in the tomb, there remaining but one picture to copy, and that upon the wall of a remote gallery. Accordingly, at about noon I found myself before the picture in question, palette in hand, surrounded by a group of fellahs in my employ, the flickering light of whose torches gave their somber faces a sufficiently Dantesque expression.

The picture I was copying was of a very common type, representing a train of long haired captives defiling before a king whom I supposed to be Thothmes, but as the hieroglyphics connected with the picture were very obscure this would take some time to determine. While painting away industriously, and sometimes reduced almost to despair in my attempts to mix colors as bright as those before me, I noticed that the paint had blistered or peeled off a little just at the point of the king's nose. As I had never noticed paint scaling from other pictures, I got up to examine the place. Taking hold of a projecting scale, I gave it a slight pull, when, to my surprise, perhaps a square foot of the paint came away, revealing the granite wall behind, and in that wall a seam or joint.

With a cry of pleasure I tore, pried and dug the paint away for a distance of some feet and disclosed the outline of a door or passageway which had been filled with one immense stone, which fitted its place so closely that the point of a penknife could hardly have been inserted between the stone and the solid rock of the gallery. Beyond an entrance so carefully closed and concealed there must be new and rare treasures, and it was with considerable excitement that I began to consider how to remove the obstacle in the passageway. Pressure, I found, had no effect upon it, and there remained no way but to blast it. I accordingly sent for drills and sledges, and soon had two gangs of fellahs at work sinking two holes on each side of the slab.

By taking advantage of the almost imperceptible interstices between the stone and the wall the work was somewhat accelerated, and several hours' labor resulted in two holes some eight inches deep. These I half filled with powder, properly tamped the charges, inserted fuses, lit them and retired with due promptitude. The deep silence of perhaps a minute was at length broken by a deafening crash, followed by interminable echoes and a strong blast of sulphurous air.

Allowing time for the fumes of the powder to dissipate, we returned and found the great slab had been hurled inward, where it lay, broken into several pieces, upon the floor of a noble corridor of great width and height.

Seizing a torch from one of the bearers, I sprang forward into the newly opened passage without a thought of the possible presence of foul air or poisonous gases. Luckily there was neither. A moment's examination satisfied me that this was the real or main tomb, to which the other had merely served as an antechamber or perhaps had been placed there as a blind to deceive those who might search for the principal structure. Here the passages were unusually spacious and lofty and were decorated with paintings far excelling, both in design and coloring, those I had been copying.

Nervously pressing on down the passage, which was crossed at intervals by others as lofty as itself, I came finally to an immense vaulted chamber of octagonal form, in the midst of which stood a huge sarcophagus of highly polished syenite. At its head there glittered a huge golden ibis, its long neck curved in graceful folds and the slender, curved bill pointing downward toward the place where the heart of the inclosed mummy would naturally have been. About the sides of the apartment stood eight other stone coffins, but smaller and of red granite instead of syenite.

As the sight of these objects burst upon me by the flickering torchlight I felt myself trembling with excessive emotion. Here was, it might be, the greatest Egyptological discovery since the finding of the Rosetta stone. No intruder before me had ever disturbed the silence of this most awful sepulcher. Nor Cambyses nor Alexander nor any of the long list of the conquerors of Egypt had penetrated the secret of this rock hewn abode of the dead. Since the deep and solemn chorus of the departing priests of Osiris had died away in hollow echoes through the long corridors about them no sound had broken the silence of the ancient dead. What if they were to wake and ask me of the doings of the world since they had slumbered there? Not history's self could answer them.

These and similar thoughts flashed through my mind, mixed with a triumphant feeling of exultation and self gratulation. But it was already late. I had eaten nothing since morning and my fellahs were tired and grumbling, so I was compelled to abandon my discoveries until the morrow, though sorely against my will. So jealous was I of my findings that, after seeing all of my workmen out of the tomb, I had my tent pitched before the outer entrance, in order that none might gain access to the new treasures which were within the inner chambers.

After a restless night I was up with the dawn, and, eating a hasty breakfast, hastened to the scene of my discovery, but before repairing thither I sent a messenger to Professor Batesi, who was then considered the greatest living Egyptologist, and who was superintending some excavations at a point about ten miles from my camp, announcing my discovery and begging him to come to me at once. This was an unselfish act on my part, as I knew very well that the scientific world would be apt to give him entire credit for my discoveries if he were to arrive on the scene so soon and should desire to appropriate my laurels, but my delight was so great that I felt the necessity of a companion to share it with me.

The first task I set for myself was the removal of the grand central sarcophagus. I had pretty well made up my mind that this was the real coffin of Thothmes III and that the one found in the outer tomb had been merely a blind. I sent to my camp for tackle and a small derrick so constructed as to be capable of being taken apart in small pieces and readily put together. While awaiting its arrival I examined the great golden ibis closely. It was apparently of solid gold, ten feet high, and the finest specimen of the goldsmith's art I had ever seen. The modeling was perfect and the minuteness of the work remarkable. The tiniest feathers, the smallest scales on the long, slender legs, were reproduced with scrupulous exactness. "There has never been found anything to compare with it," I said exultantly to myself.

In a short time the men returned with the apparatus, the derrick was erected and clamps were placed across the polished surface of the massive lid. At my command the men at the windlass began to turn, and the great slab rose slowly from its place and was lowered carefully to the floor. Leaping upon a coil of rope at hand, I looked down into the sarcophagus. As I did so the light from my torch brilliantly reflected from a huge mummy case of apparently solid and massy gold. As is usual with mummy cases, the head of the case was modeled into the form of a face. These faces are supposed to be likenesses of the inclosed mummies as they looked in life. The face was that of a man still young, of pleasing and yet commanding presence. Two crystals inserted for eyes gave it a lifelike and almost terrifying appearance. The case was carved with many and elaborate designs and was studded with the bodies of many scarabs, which were set deep in the gold

These details I observed at a glance, but an object lying at the side of the case and partly upon it now attracted my attention. This was a large vase or flask of the purest rock crystal, elaborately carved with mystical devices, which was filled with a limpid, colorless fluid—perhaps four or five quarts—which seemed to be luminous. At least it reflected the torchlight with an intensity that was almost blinding. It was a wholly novel discovery. Sarcophagi and mummies were common enough, but never had I seen or heard of the finding of anything like this. Had I found it in a Grecian or Roman tomb, I might have called it a lachrymal vase, but so far as I knew no such utensil was used by the Egyptians.

Reaching down into the great stone box, I managed to grasp the flask and take it up. As I held it aloft the fellahs set up a terrified shout as the light of their torches was reflected from it in streams of dazzling brilliancy.

"Body of Bacchus! So you are neither crazy nor hoaxing."

President of the Lehigh Valley.

Alfred Walter, the new president of the Lehigh Valley railroad, was born in Brooklyn Oct. 2, 1851. Soon after he arrived at his majority in 1872 he entered the railway service as rodsman in the engineer corps of the Alleghany Valley railroad. A little later he became assistant engineer. He remained with the engineer corps of the Alleghany Valley road until September, 1874, when he became assistant super-
